

PTH 201 Mentor Report 3 (instructions)

Discussion Guidelines:

In the weeks ahead, the student and mentor will continue to meet and address the student's spiritual life. The student should initiate and direct the discussion to the extent that ensures all necessary topics are covered. The mentor is free to respond as they determine to be best according to Biblical wisdom and their desire for the student's well-being and spiritual growth. The student should be entirely open and honest about every issue (walking in the light and not hiding in the darkness). The mentor should provide a safe environment for the student to be completely forthcoming, while graciously probing if the student needs help in that area.

Discussion Points:

The following topics should be discussed (while not being limited to these topics):

- The weekly course material and how specifically the student is applying it to their lives (ongoing topic of discussion)
- Any issue or area that the student needs to address about their spiritual growth.
- The specific areas of the student's life where they need help, growth and victory.
- The resources of Christ and how the student is taking advantage of God's provision in all areas of life.
 - The student will talk about how they are applying the truth of their justification and adoption and how this truth informs their attitudes, worldview and actions
 - The student will talk about how they are cultivating and experiencing the presence of Christ by His Spirit and the difference it is making
 - The student will talk about how they are experiencing the obedience that comes from faith and areas where they need to grow in obedience, and how faith in Christ connects to those areas.
 - The student will talk about their integration in a local church – how it is helping them and how they can grow in involvement
 - The mentor will help the student to find and plan specific ways to appropriate and experience the resources of the Gospel of Christ to their lives.
 - The mentor will encourage the student to continue pursuing holiness by wholeheartedly pursuing Christ.
- The student and mentor will discuss the possibility of continuing this mentoring relationship (no pressure on the mentor to agree). The continuing relationship may be less formal and regular, but hopefully continue to benefit the student.
- The mentor and student should pray together about these issues.
